About coffee

ARABICA OR ROBUSTA

Arabica is considered a superior type of coffee compared to robusta. It grows at higher altitudes and is more demanding to grow. It has a higher sugar content and a lower amount of caffeine. It is extremely aromatic and expressive, and its characteristics depend a lot on the intensity of frying.

BLEND

Blend is obtained by mixing two or more different coffees to form a coffee with special characteristics: stronger body, more intense aromas or a specific after taste.

ORGANIC COFFEE

Organic coffee - or coffee with an ECO certificate is coffee for the production of which artificial fertilizers are not used and which is not genetically modified.

SPECIALTY COFFEE

Specialty coffee consists of top-quality beans carefully roasted to reach their maximum potential, and then prepared according to established standards. The beans must not have defects and must be rated with 80 or more points on a scale of 100 points.

SINGLE ORIGIN

Single origin coffees are those that grow in one narrow geographical region. Sometimes it is beans from one farm or a special selection of beans from one country, after which these coffees are named.

Learn about coffee

CAFFEINE

Caffeine is one of the 1,500 components of coffee. It is known to have a positive effect on the body if it is consumed in moderate quantities. The amount of caffeine in coffee depends on several factors. Arabica beans contain 1.5% caffeine, almost twice as much as Robusta beans.

BARISTA

The quality of the coffee that reaches the guest depends on the knowledge of the barista who prepares it. Knowledge of coffee itself, adequate preparation and use of all devices are the main items in the training of a professional barista. His/her/their dedication is especially important when preparing specialty coffees, due to their sensitivity.

LATTE ART

Latte art is a method of combining coffee, milk and milk cream that results in a certain drawing on the surface of the drink. The quality of the drawing depends on the coffee itself, the quality of the milk cream and the skill of the barista. In addition to the symmetry of the drawing, the contrast between coffee and milk is especially appreciated.

THE COFFEE BELT

"Coffee belt" – a belt around the equatorial zone in which there are excellent conditions for growing the coffee plant, within which micro-zones have formed over time that give coffees a unique stamp.

COFFEE BODY

This is the term used to describe the physical characteristics of coffee - the fullness of taste and texture that we feel in our mouths when drinking coffee. We can distinguish coffees with a lighter, medium or fuller body, intense, as well as those with such a pronounced body that they act like oils and syrups.

ESPRESSO

Espresso is a hot drink that is obtained by passing water under pressure through a filter with finely ground coffee, giving about 30ml of concentrated coffee on the surface of which cream is formed. Depending on the wishes of the guests, there are several variants of different intensities, as well as options with or without milk.

Brew bar

Alternative brewing methods provide a different coffee profile compared to classic espresso. While a perfectly calibrated machine is essential for making an excellent espresso, these beverages use simple manual brewing equipment, such as glass carafes and paper filters. Basic knowledge of coffee, the grind size of the beans, the filtering time, and the required pressure are necessary for preparation. The final product is a unique beverage that can be enjoyed hot or cold and is a great option for those who want to experience our Arabica coffees in a different light.

Its best edition.

The area of western Serbia is a perfect place for growing raspberries. We chose the Vilamet variety, the highest quality and tastiest variety, enriched it with acacia honey and created a perfectly balanced taste.

Innovative in its recipe and authentic in its taste, raspberry juice is extremely rich in powerful antioxidants, which have an anti-inflammatory effect and prevent the action of harmful bacteria and fungi. Among them are anthocyanins that give raspberries their red color, resveratrol that slows down aging, and ellagitannin that has anti-cancer properties.

FULL OF VITAMINS – raspberry contains primarily vitamin C, as well as vitamins B, E and K. Raspberries also contain potassium, magnesium, manganese, copper. Cleans blood vessels and helps regulate blood sugar levels – raspberry ketones have a beneficial effect on blood sugar levels and stimulate fat metabolism, thus preventing their deposition in the body. Also, this fruit is rich in plant fibers that stimulate digestion.

A taste that the youngest simply adore, and it brings us, who are now adults, back to our childhood and awakens emotions from our childhood and the time when everything had a perfect taste.

Loft berry Strawberry juice is tasty and refreshing. This fruit preserves vision, boosts immunity, protects the body from free radicals and "erases" wrinkles! Because of all this, nutritionists recommend it!

Strawberries are rich in vitamin C and A, fiber, have plenty of iron and folic acid. In addition, they are good if you have problems with spring allergies.

BLUEBERRY JUICE 0,2l

455 RSD

There is power in small berries. This is also proven by the blueberry, a fruit that is a treasure trove of vitamins and minerals, and whose tiny fruits do wonders for our heart, brain and digestion. In addition to having a small number of calories and thus standing on the way to obesity, blueberries also have an effect on improving the image of our health. Numerous studies have shown that blueberries contain certain compounds that prevent the reproduction of bacteria that cause urinary infections, as well as their retention on the walls of the bladder.

Blueberry strengthens bones, improves vision, maintains concentration, strengthens the brain. It regenerates the skin and lowers elevated blood sugar. Blueberry is one of the largest natural antioxidants and contains a large amount of vitamins, minerals and trace elements. It slows down the aging of the whole body, so without exaggeration we can call it the elixir of health and youth.

Blueberry is recommended as a dietary supplement for people suffering from malignant diseases. Anticyanin, which is found in blueberries and is responsible for its blue color, protects our body in this sense by actively fighting cancer cells.

Our blueberry juice is enriched with honey, which additionally positively affects all the listed benefits and, in addition, it tastes perfect.
